

Wednesday Morning Trainers/Education Special Committee Job Description

Valerie Massingill
2023- 2024

Pursuant to the Bylaws, Article II – Purpose: The purpose of this organization shall be to promote sailing and to assist its members in becoming proficient in the science of sailing.

To fulfill this mission, a Special Committee has been established to assist the Co-Captain with unplanned Wednesday mornings, when the weather does not allow the ladies to participate on the water. This committee designs and establishes READY-TO-GO two (2) hour programs for the Active Salty Sisters Sailors to attend in the Sailing Center's classroom. The committee establishes those programs it believes are needed and if needed finds the best Instructors for each session. These sessions could include but not limited to, any kind of sailing, race committee duties, race strategy, knots, rigging, boat types, health, guest speakers and stories of sailing experiences. The Co-Captain generally has an idea the night before if a session will be needed but it is up to this committee to have a lesson READY-TO-GO the morning of a non-sail Wednesday morning. This committee is often called upon to present programs during the summer when Saltys are not sailing.

Salty Sisters generally plan approximately 35 sail mornings but historically has only been able to sail approximately seventy-five percent (75%) of those planned days. This committee should plan on 12 possible last minute lessons with instructors' available dates to insure the purpose of this committee can be fulfilled each time needed.
